Section 1
Introduction

This guide contains a definition of every COMPONENT and EVENT within the system.

The information contained in this section is structured around each dataset. For each dataset the following information is held:

- Name - the mnemonic of the dataset, as defined in the DASDL
- Title - the title of the dataset which gives an indication of its purpose
- Type - the type of LINC component

Together with this, a description of each element or data field is provided, consisting of:

- Element - the mnemonic of the data field
- Size - the maximum length of the field
- Type - the type of field in LINC notation
  - A = Alphanumeric
  - N = Numeric
  - + or S = Decimal numeric
- Dec. - the number of decimal places
- Definition - an indication of the purpose of the field

Note: Dates are often stored in Relative Date Form. This indicates the number of days before or after 1st January 1957. For example, 10th January 1957 is stored as +00009 and 30th December 1956 is stored as -00002.

A list of all profiles associated with each dataset is shown after the element description for each dataset.

Where the content of the field varies, the datastore description is followed by a full explanation of each field. In the case of DIARY, each DIARY TYPE is fully described.

The End-of-Day contracts update report creates and maintain summary totals for contracts and client accounts.

Note: Different ACCRU fields will be used by Swaps Contracts, depending on the method of accrual: Hedged or Traded.

Securities acceptance contracts do not require accrual, and have therefore been excluded.

As well as the contract types shown above, ACCRU records are produced for Foreign Exchange Position Accrual. In the case where a record relates to Foreign Exchange Positions the "CONTRACT TYPE" will be "FXPS" (BP-FXPS).

Two separate mappings of "ACCRU" are shown below - one for the daily accrual record, and one for the period-end accrual record.
In addition separate mappings are shown for Loan Administration (LA) daily and period-end accrual records.

Individual descriptions are given for any fields that vary according to the Contract Type - for any Contract Types that are not mentioned in the description, the relevant field should be taken to be "UNUSED".

"UNUSED" fields should be AUTO'ed as either zeros or spaces (depending on the edit characteristics) whenever an "ACCRU" record is written.

CNAUD records are used for:

- Accrual processing (backvalued schedules) by the relevant end of day report
- Exposure processing
- Producing the dealing log (DEALSHEET)

A description of each of the fields in “CNAUD” is given below for each Contract Type. Individual descriptions are given for any fields that vary according to the Contract Type. For any Contract Types that are not mentioned in the description, the relevant field should be taken to be “UNUSED”.

“UNUSED” fields should be AUTO’ed as either Zeros or Spaces (depending on the edit characteristics) whenever a “CNAUD” record is written.

"CNEOD" is used to store contract accrual totals for use in the End of Day offline processing. The End of Day report updates this structure and once complete the structure is used to drive an accruals report.

Refer to "RECORD-IND", below, for Foreign Exchange contracts.

Two CNEOD records are written for SWAP contracts - one for the LOAN side and one for the DEPOSIT side. Different CNEOD fields are set up depending on which is being processed, as indicated by the CNEOD RECORD-IND field.

Securities sale and acceptance contracts do not require accrual, and have therefore been excluded.

Extra information on some of the fields in "CNEOD" is given below. This information is included for special features of the field, or if the field has a different description for different contract types. For any Contract Types that are not mentioned in the description, the relevant field should be taken to be "UNUSED".

Note: "UNUSED" fields should be AUTO'ed as either Zeros or Spaces (depending on the edit characteristics) whenever a "CNEOD" record is written.

Note 1: Diary Reference Number

Certain Contract Types can have more than one Event on a particular Value Date. For example, an FX MARKET may have a TAKEUP EVENT on the MATURITY DATE, and the TAKEUP must be processed before the MATURITY DIARY. To enable referencing of specific Diary records, the Diary Reference Number (D-REFNO) is given pre-defined values, as follows:

Input Diaries	“1000”
Maturity Diaries	“9999”
Disposal Diaries	“8888”
Partial Sale Diaries	“8001” Thru “8887”
Coupon Diaries	“7777”
Interest Settlement	“6666”	(only in FRA Contracts)
Interest Settlement	“5555”	If Loan Side (only in IR Swaps)
Interest Settlement	“6666”	If Dep. Side (only in IR Swaps)
Rollover	“5555”	If Loan Side (only in IR Swaps)
Rollover	“6666”	If Dep. Side (only in IR Swaps)
Fixing	“5555”
Premium Settlement	“4444”
Compensating Payments	"7600" Thru "7699"	If Loan Side (only in IR Swaps)
Compensating Payments	"7500" Thru "7599"	If Dep. Side (only in IR Swaps)
FX Takeup	“0001” Thru “0999”
Discount Diaries	“0001” Thru “0999”
All Other Diaries	“0000”

Note 2: Deletions

There are two ways a DIARY is deleted:

- FLAG GC-DRY-DELETED to the DIARY’s D-STATUS field. This is done when a contract is deleted.
- Initialise key fields. This is done on all other occasions.

Note 3: Confirmation Issued/Payment Issued Flag Settings

- Set to GC-NOT-APPLICABLE if confirmation/payment has no meaning for this event.
- Set to GC-TO-BE-SENT if confirmation/payment issue will be created when the EVENTDATE is within the confirmation/payment window - i.e. not greater than confirmation/payment advance date.
- Set to GC-SENT if confirmation/payment issue record has been created and will be/has been produced. The EVENTDATE is within the confirmation/advance date window.
- For PAYMENT ISSUED FLAG only:

  If the Nostro for a payment is a Compensating Nostro and/or the Payment Amount is zero, then no Payment is produced, but the payment issued flag is set regardless of these factors - i.e. the payment issued flag can be set to GC-SENT or GC-TO-BE-SENT even though no payment advice is or will be produced.

Creating Maturity Confirmations when Maturity Date is Changed

Old Value for CNFM-FLG on Maturity Diary	New Maturity Date within confirmation days in advance or within BP-MAT-CNFM-LIMIT?	Revised/New confirmation should be sent?	New value for CNFM-FLG on Maturity Diary
Sent	No	Yes (Revised)	To be sent
Sent	Yes	Yes (Revised)	Sent
To be sent	Confirmation days in advance	Yes (New)	Sent
To be sent	BP-MAT-CNFM-LIMIT	No	Not applicable
Not applicable	No	No	To be sent
Not applicable	BP-MAT-CNFM-LIMIT	No	Not applicable
Not applicable	Confirmation days in advance	Yes (New)	Sent

Note 4:

For CL Commitments the Input confirmations do not display any Expiry Date Payment details, so the Commitment Maturity Diary's CONFIRMATION is always produced and there are no "sole" Input Confirmations. As a result only the first three conditions in the above table apply to CL Commitments.

Note 5:

For all DIARY types the field "ACTL-DATE" is converted from "INPUT-DATE" and the field "ACTL-TIME" is taken from "GLB.TIME".

Note 6:

Individual descriptions are given for any fields that vary according to the CONTRACT and DIARY type - for any Contract Types that are not mentioned in the description, the relevant field should be taken to be "UNUSED".

Note: "Unused" fields should be AUTO'ED as either zeros or spaces (depending on the edit characteristics) whenever a "DIARY" record is written.

Note 7:

The "LA Postings on Message Release" functionality requires accounting models to be set up, but does not directly utilise the DIARY dataset (see the Loan Administration System Guide for details).
